OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

Thursday - 22 February 1962

- 25X1 1. [redacted] Mr. McCone, in accordance with previous arrangements, met for the monthly meeting with the Vinson CIA Subcommittee of House Armed Services. He gave a two hour briefing which seemed to impress the members very greatly. See Memorandum for the Record.
- 25X1 2. [redacted] After discussing Senator Russell's concern with Mr. McCone, I telephoned Mr. Darden assuring him that Mr. McCone was going to give first priority to Senator Russell's wishes on the Powers matter. Mr. McCone was very firm to me that Russell had first priority and second priority was Mr. Vinson and we would work from there.
- 25X1 3. [redacted] Boyd Crawford also called stating that Dr. Morgan wished very much to have House Foreign Affairs placed on the list when Powers will be made available.
- 25X1 4. [redacted] Late last evening, I talked with Senator Thomas J. Dodd again concerning [redacted]. Senator Dodd was very pleasant and I am sure the Director's call to the Senator did much to settle him. Dodd said he understood that it was difficult to arrange something like a meeting between [redacted] and the Director on such short notice. However, he would appreciate anything we could do. I suggested to the Senator the possibility of [redacted]
25X1 [redacted] coming down over a weekend and he thought this was a good idea. I told the Senator that [redacted] of the Agency was in almost constant contact with [redacted], talking with her several times a week and asked the Senator if he wished us to make arrangements for her visit through [redacted] or whether he preferred that we continue to work with him. He said he would appreciate our working through him on this. He suggested that we determine a weekend when it would be convenient for Mr. McCone to see [redacted] and let him know. I told him we would do so. The substance of this conversation has been passed on to [redacted]
